

LESSON 1
RIGHT PEOPLE, RIGHT PLACES

Destiny is a mystery for most people.

Very few understand what destiny is and how they can positively affect the course of their destiny from day to day. I want to show you biblical strategies for transitioning into elevated positions of grace and power.

Don't allow who you are today to sabotage who you have the potential to become. Refuse to take old mindsets, strategies, and habits with you into the new season ahead.

Leave behind mediocrity once and for all.

PART ONE DISCUSSION GUIDE

Read Genesis 19

What did God tell Lot to do and why?

When God shifts you into a new season, what should you refuse to do?

Discuss what is represented by “the morning” in this lesson.

Read 1 Peter 1:7

What was Lot's faith being tried by?

- What was this demanding of Lot to choose?

What does “Zoar” represent?

- What does “the cave” represent?

Discuss the significance of what Lot struggles with during this time of transition?

God is always at work in the wreckage.

What must you do at the end of a season?

Discuss the three types of strategies presented here.

- How might you apply what we learn about transitional strategies?

Describe some of the ways you are free.

- What one thing could you change that would change everything?

Why do people mourn?

- What do “ashes” represent?

Why did Lot’s wife turn into a pillar of salt?

Describe the two ends of the continuum discussed here.

Share with your group what you believe you are wired to do.
